Dear Parents and Children of Morpurgo Class,

As your new class teacher from next Monday, I am writing to formally introduce myself. Many of you may have seen me around school either teaching other year groups or in Morpurgo class in the week before the lockdown. During the past few weeks I have been working closely with Mrs Crease learning about the class and what you have been doing on-line. I have been particularly impressed with your work on Seesaw!

Since 2005 I have been a part of Longstone School; either as a parent (to my daughter, Georgina) or as a supply teacher. The school is very special to me and I am delighted to be working with you all.

Once we return to school I am looking forward to getting to know you all very well. When the time is right, I will welcome the opportunity to introduce myself in person. In the meantime, you will be able to contact me via seesaw and I shall be using Mrs Crease's temporary (corona) e-mail address; that way you don't have to save any new details. I shall begin posting online activities from next Monday on the Morpurgo home-learning page and see-saw, just in the same way as Mrs Crease has been doing.

Finally, I am sure you will join me in wishing Mrs. Crease all the best for her new arrival and thanking her for all her hard work this year. She has been an amazing support in all of our handover discussions and I know that she has enjoyed teaching you this year.

Yours Sincerely,

Mrs S. Gregory
