Additional comments:

- All letters to be uploaded to website as there have been some occasions when they haven't been.
- Would like more feedback about what the governors have been doing and what key decisions have been made.
- Would like a more structured discipline system so that children would know when to modify their behaviour.
- Would like a better selection of non-fiction books at the higher stages. Also more books aimed at girls in the upper reading stages.
- "While aiming for outstanding will be important to the school, I personally would be suspicious of those schools that have achieved it. The pressure to maintain the standard can be stressful and the systems that run it become robotic. My children are happy. They get lots of opportunities, great teaching, individual attention and the whole school is sociable and well run."
